ABN's Mission

ABN's Primary Objective

ABN's primary objective is the establishment of professional standards of expertise for the practice of clinical neuropsychology. Through its credentialing and examination processes the ABN offers to the medical community, the psychological community and the public a process whereby well-qualified professional neuropsychologists can be identified.

ABN

ABN's Orientation

- ABN does not ascribe to any specific theoretical framework.
- While recognizing the importance and contribution of graduate education in neuropsychology and subsequent specialty training, the ABN believes that the critical element in the practice of professional neuropsychology is the application of that training to patient issues and needs.

ABN's Goal

- ABN recognizes and encourages the pursuit of excellence in the practice of clinical neuropsychology.
- ABN - Putting the "Clinical" back into Neuropsychology.

Work Sample Examination

ABN

Work Sample Examination

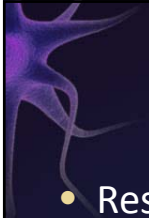

- Communicate with the work sample coordinator before submitting cases
 - Two cases: not more than 2 years old.
 - Straight forward cases, not the weirdest cases you can find.
 - Also, include a 5 page Rationale for why you did what you did (for each case).
 - Why you chose this test or that test, what research supports your conclusions, what other considerations did you have, etc.

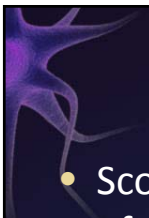

Work Sample Submissions guidelines

- YOU MUST SANITIZE YOUR WORK SAMPLES, INCLUDING THE TEST PROTOCOLS, REPORT, AND SUPPORTING DOCUMENTATION. If you do not fully blind your report, you will automatically fail and will be required to submit NEW SAMPLES

Include:

- Reason for Referral
- Clinical history (Developmental, Ed, Medical, Psychiatric etc)

- Results, (including all protocols-Be sure you check your scoring). You must discuss performance validity.
 - Integrated summary (not just a regurgitation of the results) and how this supports your diagnosis and Findings
 - Recommendations (must be doable and reasonable given the results and history)

- Scoring for Work Sample is based on a set list of criteria that are each scored on a 0, 1,2 scale. Passing score is 70%
 - You must not have any instant failures (such as info that is not sanitized properly, incorrect use of tests –i.e. WISC instead of WAIS, failure to discuss Performance Validity, omitting elements including 5 page rational, etc)

If You Fail the Work Sample Exam

- You will get specific feedback on what the problem was.
- You have a year to submit 2 new samples
- You can submit up to 3 times, but the third time is only with approval of the BOD

Your Credential

Oral Examination

ABN

ORAL EXAMINATION

- the Oral Exam coordinator schedules the exams. We typically schedule oral exams multiple times per year, at regional tests sites and at major NP meetings
- It is meant to be collegial, and for some is the most enjoyable part of the exam
- There are two parts - Work Style and Ethics
- Both parts are build around Vignettes (Specific scoring criteria scoring 0,1,2).

THE DAY OF THE ORAL EXAMS

- The day of exam you will meet the Oral Exam Coordinator at the specified time and location. The coordinator will answer any questions you have
- The coordinator will then escort you to the first exam room for completion of the first part of the Oral Exam
- After completion of the first part of the exam, the coordinator will escort you to the second exam room to complete the second part of the Oral Exam

HOW ORAL EXAMS FLOW

- For both the Work Style and the Ethics Oral Exam, the examiner will spend a few minutes getting know you and your practice, and will tell you a bit about him or herself
- For each portion of the exam:
 - You will be given a 2 Vignettes, and will pick one to respond to
 - Vignettes and the oral exams themselves each have a set list of scoring criteria that are each scored 2-1-0. You must score 70% on BOTH EXAMS to pass
 - This is the time to dazzle the examiner with your brilliance.

WORK STYLE ORAL EXAM

- From the Work Style Vignette (clinical case)
 - Tell what you would do and more importantly WHY you would do it
 - How you approach the case
 - Tests you would give
 - Your clinical thinking/case formulation
 - What you would be trying to rule out
 - Etc.
- You will also be asked general questions about your own practice and work style

ETHICS ORAL EXAM

- You will be given 2 vignettes to choose from, each representing some sort of ethical dilemma
 - Tell the examiner what ethical principle(s) you would be concerned with
 - How would you approach/resolve the problem(s)
 - The examiner is scoring you both on your ability to recognize the dilemma, and how to resolve it
- You will also be asked to discuss ethical practice in general, including the types of issues you yourself may encounter

WHAT IF I FAIL THE ORAL EXAM?

- If you fail both then you need to retake both.
- If fail 1 then just need to retake the one.
 - You will receive feedback from the Oral Exam Coordinator.

WHAT IF I PASS THE ORAL EXAM?

You will be notified by the president of ABN

You will get an official diploma, and a really great ABN pin

Academy of the American Board of Professional Neuropsychology (AABN)

- In January 2014, the Academy of the American Board of Professional Neuropsychology (AABN), a division of ABN, began offering the opportunity for post-doctoral neuropsychology residency training programs to become nationally recognized in a network designed to address the current placement shortage. Currently, there are 7 recognized training sites, representing a total of 18 post-doctoral residents.
- AABN uses a consortium approach to training that allows even small private practices to qualify for recognition while still meeting Houston Conference Guidelines training requirements. For example, it is possible for two or more practices to join forces and develop their own training consortium. Through shared didactics, post-doctoral residents that complete their fellowships will meet or exceed requirements for board certification in neuropsychology.
- Questions about how AABN may benefit your program should be directed to Dr. Cooper at PaulaCooperPhD@gmail.com
